away from home into non domestic forms of belonging their ties to excess and exaggeration as opposed to restraint and moderation their refusal of the banalities of ordinary life and in particular of massification subcultures looks at the way these features find expression across many different subcultural groups from the ranters to the riot grrrls from taxi dancers to drag queens and kings from bebop to hip hop from dandies to punk from hobos to leatherfolk and from hippies and bohemians to digital pirates and virtual communities it argues that subcultural identity is primarily a matter of narrative and narration which means that its focus is literary as well as sociological it also argues for the idea of a subcultural geography that subcultures inhabit places in particular ways their investment in them being as much imaginary as real and in some cases strikingly utopian

in a global society with a rapid proliferation of images fashions and lifestyles it is becoming increasingly difficult to pinpoint what subculture actually means this work states that it may be a convenient way to describe more unconventional aspects of youth culture
